COTTON MARKETS.

New York, November IL—An early advance in the cotton market carried prices into new bids for country and content in the color market carried prices into mew bids for country and followed by a reaction with the close steady are 17 points lower to I point higher. The opening was steady at an advance of full points, owing to better cables than expected, and prices gradually worked my on an eight of about 12616 points on covering by shorts, a reserved foreign demand and some support from spot houses. May contracts sold at 15.00, 30 points up from the low level of Wednesday and 2 points above the best price reached before the publication of the census report last Monday. This carried the market back to within 18 points at the bids records for the season made during the middle of October and attracted considerable realizing. Moreover, outside demand had failed to broaden on the advance, and when it was found that the demand from shorts was becoming less arrigent local professionals showed a disposition to take the short side for a turn. Brospects for bullish week-end figures and the steady showing of the Southern spot markets prevented any agreessive elling, but offerings became beavier during the atternoon, when there was a slight raily on covering, and linal quotations were 1900.
